Brazilian-born Henderson travelled extensively around the world before settling in London in 1986. Working from a stunning Thameside studio he creates inspirational images featuring scenes from many of the world's most striking and dynamic cities.

Henderson's dramatic tonal statements convey the unique atmosphere of his subject. His unique ability to recreate the character of each location has established him as the quintessential artist of urban life.

In 2006 Henderson was named as the UK's Best Up-and-Coming Artist. Such is the global demand for his work that both his Original Paintings and his Published Editions are exported to all four corners of the world.
