Technically brilliant, stylistically virtuosic and endlessly observant, Sherree is a favourite with many celebrity collectors including members of the British Royal Family. Famous show-business figures have sat for her including Joanna Lumley and Michael Parkinson, and as official artist to the Rugby World Cup she produced magnificent commemorative portraits of Jonny Wilkinson and Martin Johnson. Her recent projects have included the publication of a stunning hardback book celebrating her life and career, and participation in the TV Series 'To the Manor Bowen' in which she was shown painting portraits of Jackie and Laurence Llewelyn-Bowen. Earlier this year Sherree was officially voted the UK's Leading Impressionist Artist at a red carpet event in London.
